Tenant: Hello. Can I speak to Mr Turner, please?

Landlord: How can I help you?

Tenant: I'm calling about the list of problems I gave you last Monday.

Landlord: What problems did you find?

Tenant: The tap is leaking, it's draughty in my room and yesterday I saw some insects in the hall.

Landlord: It's impossible. I don't feel for that.

Tenant: I'm sorry to say that but you're to maintain our flat. Could you call anyone who can the problems and insects?

Landlord: I'm going to do it next week. I'm leaving tomorrow.

Tenant: I'm waiting. The living conditions are poor and my rent is high.

Landlord: Sorry to hear that. I promise to handle that next week.

Tenant: In that case, you won't get a rent check on time. It's dangerous for my health and I'm to contact local authorities.

Landlord: No need to get angry. I'll be there in an hour.
